J. Eugene Walker

We read a few books over the week-end. John Erskine's Adam and Eve makes us agree with O. McIntire that John writes a lot of twaddle. However, O. B. Rolvaag has contributed a fine novel in Grants in the Earth. It is built for those who enjoy fine writing. It was written in America by a foreigner, and had to be translated into English.

There is no more stimulating sport than that of reading modern current periodicals. There is the staid and severe Atlantic Monthly; and then there is the intransigent Survey, Nation and New Republic; again, there is the mediocre crowd of magazines which wax and wane in popularity and prestige; still one is surprised in view of the magnificent outlay of good reading, that some people can prefer some of the trash which clutters the news-stands.

Lindbergh is still sailing high on the banks of his popularity. What the U. S. ought to do is to train a school of fifty Lindberghs, and send them out to all the corners of the earth. We wouldn't need to start twenty years of naval construction. We wouldn't need to invade Nicaragua ineffectively. We might even bring about a reduction of the international defenses. Ferrero, the greatest European historian, says that the world's armies are only 1,000,000 men less than during the war. Lindbergh seems able to do more than most nations toward promoting peace.

Every student in college ought to purchase the January issue of "Current History". It contains over half dozen articles on education, all of which are interesting, stimulating and broadening. Here one can find every angle of college life treated in a scholarly manner.

That calls to mind another lecture. Richard Halliburton will talk at the Ebell Club on January 31st.

Frosh Entertain Soph Girls Today

A freshman-sophomore tea is being sponsored by the W. A. A. today at 3:30 in the Y-Hut. Each freshman is taking a sophomore woman.

Mrs. Foote and Mrs. Tessman are to pour at the tea.

On the program will be a vocal duet by Mary and Marian Bruner, a violin solo by Dorothy Lutz, a reading by Thelma Dugan, and other musical numbers.

Women Debaters Lose to Redlands

Ruth Ann Walker and Thelma Dugan, Santa Ana college women debaters, lost to the Women's debating team of Redlands university, 2-1, Wednesday, January 11, at Redlands.

The Santa Ana women had the negative side of the question: "Resolved that A Nation With an Advanced Civilization is Justified in Forcing it upon an Inferior Nation."

Student Officers For Next Term Elected Today

Past Week Features Political Campaigning Between Parties

Weeks of political campaigning and party of rivalry are being brought to a close today, as students are casting ballots for the semester's student body officers.

Although parties have not definitely organized their policies, spirited rivalry has manifested itself during the past week as election time drew near.

Parties Active

The Conservatives have assembled a ticket bearing the names of Lawrence Minge for president, Spencer Stewart for vice president, Hazel Smith for secretary, and James Sullivan for treasurer.

The other sets of candidates are of no particular party name. They are James Walker and John Fitz, president; Dick Drew, vice president; Virginia Powell, secretary.

Minge Capable

Lawrence Minge, although a fifth semester man, is an eligible and capable candidate for the president's office. He has been vice president of the student body and is now president of the Bachelors organization. He has also been an influential man in Beta Gamma.

One Unit Is Given For Nature Study

A new one unit course in nature study is to be started this coming semester under the direction of Miss Meta C. Daniel. The class will have exclusive use of the laboratory and will take many field trips. It will meet Saturday mornings from 8 to 11. Diploma credit will be given.

The purpose of this course, according to Miss Daniel, is to educate the students to preserve and not to destroy California's birds, trees, insects, and flowers.

Miss Daniel has taught a college nature study course before, and has hiked through two natural parks, Sequoia National and Yellowstone National.

Coming Events

Wednesday, January 18 —
W. A. cabinet meeting at 6 p. m.
Friday, January 20—
Final exams begin.
Subject A exam, 1 p. m.
Saturday, January 21—

Kirby Page Talks Before Students

World Peace is Topic Before Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. At Joint Meeting

Kirby Page, world pacifist and editor of the World of Tomorrow was scheduled to speak last night on World Peace at City Y. M. C. A. before the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. members of Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges.

The spirit of fellowship spread by Kirby Page reached every listener. He is not noted as a powerful speaker, but as a dynamic thinker. The necessity to think, on the part of the audience was evident, from the beginning of Mr. Page's lecture.

As a pacifist, it is said that Kirby Page is under the pay of the Russian government.

It was estimated that 200 tickets were sold for the lecture and dinner. The dinner was held at 6:30.

New Course Offered In Advanced Debate

A course in advanced debating will be offered to college students next semester, according to C. C. Stewart, public speaking instructor. The course will be a two unit subject and will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1:00.

The class is open to any student who has had public speaking experience in either high school or college. The course is necessary to the advancement of debate in the Santa Ana college.

The course will cover the analysis of debate and of the proposition, the various types of evidences and its uses, and the method of organizing and delivering the speech proper.

Debating is a desirable subject in any type of course, declares Stewart. Ability to think logically and analytically is increased.

Indian Chief Will Speak in Assembly

Ninety-year Old Chief to Show Valuable Wardrobe

Big Chief Standing—Bear, ninety year old Indian Chief is scheduled to appear in assembly today at one o'clock in the high school auditorium.

The chief is bringing come of his wardrobe with him. One robe is valued at $3,200.

His niece is coming with the Chief to assist him in the entertainment.

Those who saw the Indian Village at the Fair will remember Chief Standing Bear as the head chief of the Indian Village.

Members Limited In Honor Society

Only 10 per cent of last year's college students were granted membership in the honor society, according to Lella Watson, faculty advisor. Out of the twenty-three students only six are enrolled in the college.

Through past experience it is not only those who are termed bookworms that belonged to the society, but those who are leaders in the school are prominent in the club.

Anyone making a total of at least 33 grade points is eligible for membership. Grade points are awarded according to the marking received for the semester. Three grade points are awarded for every unit in which an "A" is received; 2 grade points for every unit in which a "B" is received; and one point for every unit in which a "C" is obtained. On the other hand one grade point is deducted for every unit in which an "F" is awarded.

Every spring the honor society is honored by a dinner held at Mission Inn, Riverside, sponsored by the faculty of the college.

The present members are Mrs. Marie Biesel, Mydas Capps, Lucile Goodrich, Theodora Mueller, Edward Riniker and Donald Squires.

Feb. 1 Edition Is Mystery

"Well, here's how."
"Don't you know anything about it?"

"It seems to be a mystery even to the Bachelors."

"What does?"
"The Bachelor edition of the Don."

The Bachelors are taking over one edition of the Don, for which Don staffers are mighty thankful.

There will be a regular news section, sport page, editorial page, and—well, wait 'till you see the fourth page. It will be one big Bachelor Bleat by notables.

Wish I could tell you more about it, but Lawrence Light—mouth Minge won't tell a soul. Here's hoping he knows more about what he is doing than the rest of us.

Freshmen to be Hosts to Sophs At Dance Feb. 27

Annual Dance to be Held in Orange Women's Club House

The "Sophomores are to be the honored guests of the freshmen class. The informal dance at which Frosh are entertaining the Sophs will be held in the Orange Woman's Club house, Friday, Jan. 27.

Committees Appointed

Definite plans for the dance are being made by Jack Taylor, president of the freshman class Ruth Tantlinger has been appointed chairman of the decorating committee.

Each member of the clas will be assessed seventy-five cents to pay for the expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Beeman and Mrs. H. O. Russell and Miss Myrtle Martin will chaperone the party.

Many New Courses Offered Students

Many new courses are to be offered this coming semester. Some offered this semester will be repeated next semester for the benefit of new students. The schedule will be posted on the bulletin board as soon as possible, according to Dean Fisk.

A class in Psychology 2B will be offered to any student who wishes to enroll. It will be a one unit course, dealing with "How to Study" and meeting two days a week for one-half of the semester. This course is not a continuation of the present Psychology 2 class.

English 7A, a study of American literature is to be started. It is the study of outstanding writers before 1890, and their contributions to the development of poetry, prose fiction, and essays. This is a two unit course.

Two new courses in geography are to be offered, cultural and economic. Cultural geography deals with the cultures of human groups, the influence of these cultures, and the achievements of the physical factors

King's Day

"King day! What does that mean?" Ask a freshe. And a soph with all his knowledge and experience, smiles and answers that it is just an old tradition. Wednesday, January 25, the outgoing student body president, Pete Twist, will act as king. His chosen queen, whoever she may be, will reign with him.

Students and faculty of Santa Ana college must obey him this last day he is in office, according to a tradition in the college.

Election Policy

In conforming to its usual policy of handing out small surprise packages to break the monotony of regular reading, the Don could not be said to have achieved an open-armed welcome at its last appearance on the campus. Curiosity and, —shall it be said rather strongly—antagonism was aroused over the ears, or what had been ears; and again, as has happened on several other memorable occasions, the editorial column was perused with both approval and disapproval.

It is because the disapproval has been so marked that this apology is offered—an apology for forgetting, the fact that decisive stands in student politics are taboo. The object of the error, however, was accomplished by one of the chief objectors to our perfidious policy by the quick use of a pair of scissors.

It is usual for a college paper to advise students to "vote for the right man after due consideration." The editor believed that, after due consideration and knowledge of the men in question, the policy should go farther and say who the right man was. That the editor did, with the result that strenuous objections were raised by the people who shall be dignified with the name Conservatives. It was the editor's sincere belief that the Don was expressing the opinion of the majority of students.

The editor assumes full responsibility in taking a clear-cut stand for a certain candidate whose experience and ability was advanced as that which would best serve the interests of the students.

Accusations that a clique formed to exercise its power in putting this candidate into office are entirely unjustified. The editor was alone responsible for the policy which had not been discussed by any but staff members.

If evidence points to a mistake, the editor will be the first to retract, for the editor does not pretend to be infallible in judgment.

Perspective

We are sorry if there were any student who was unable to hear Professor Blanchard at last week's assembly. It is not often that we can have to speak to us a man so interesting, so cultured, and so delightful as the professor was.

Some of us shall remember him for his inimitable mimicry, other for his smooth, rich pronunciation, while all of us were encouraged and helped by his advice.

Perspective—Yes, it is a thing we all need. It reduces mountains of troubles to molehills; it places events in their proper importance, emphasizing the big and ignoring the minute.

"Dream dreams", said Professor Blanchard. And what gloriously beautiful dreams youth can hold its heart! Love, hopes, beauty, romance, adventure all are doors through which a magical land is entered.

To dream, and to see life as a whole are valuable experiences. It is through contact with such men as Professor Blanchard that we can do those things.

Campus Chatter

Teddy Mueller saying good-bye to Milton: "O Milton, dear, won't you miss me when the moon is shining bright?"

Milton Chaffee: "Don't worry, sweetheart, I'll keep in practice up at Berkeley."

Santa Claus did one kind deed this year in presenting Adelaide Mueller with a hope chest and one dozen bath towels.

Mr. Nealley(in Psychology 1A): "Can you put your finger on this particular week?"

Eddie Gerhardt immediately placed his finger on the back of Jimmy Walker's head.

Catherine Jessup has become a squasher, so to speak. She held a pious marriage ceremony in the hut at which she united Loretta Spangler and Margaret Glenn as squaw and squash.

Eleanor Crookshank has decided it would be a wise plan for her to donate her two volume French-English dictionary to the hut to be used exclusively by those struggling with French.

Miss Diana Anderson (putting up volley ball net): "Wouldn't it be funny if I should fall and stick my foot through this net?"

Dorothy Clarkson: "Yes, wouldn't it!"

Miss Anderson: "It would give you Don reporters another 'foot' note."

T. H. Glenn and Lyles McNairy were "better than a vaudeville" according to Ruth Harmon, on the way to Baldy, their southern accent was the means of entertainment when they got into an argument.

After hearing Balboa Park pipe organ, Katherine Kirven determined to astonish the church organist with her knowledge. Last Sunday she said to him, "You haven't enough bourbon in your bass and you really ought to use more vox popolai in your softer passages."

Indisposition is an ailment that is sometimes suffered even by Victrolas. When the one in room 231 suffered an attack the other day a class was dismissed early, to the sorrow of the students.

Judy Cummings and Grace Alberts were found seated on the sofa in the "Y" Hut reading from an etiquette book, all about the manners and dress for weddings.

"Doesn't that mule ever kick you?"

"No sah, he ain't yit, but he frequently kicks de place where Ah recently was."

Who's Who

Every one is beginning to take notice of one of this semester's students. He rated highly as a speedy football player and was known as "the little fellow who slips through the line."

Although some do not know it, he plays the violin and is promising material for the track team.

He is known by the color of his hair, his collegiate walk, his purple sweater, and the yellow pencil that is invariably behind his ear. His names rhymes with—and you will invariably admit that he is—"a live wire."

Can You Picture?—

Thelma Dungan not immaculate?
Theodora Mueller not pulling down?
Lois Allen a gold digger?
Ray Lindman in a tux?
Katy Best without her prudent smile?
Mary Jane without Spence?
Eddie Gerhardt without a part of his harem?

Juanita James without her glasses?
Adelle Gardner the college widow?
Laurence Minge a blonde?
Roberta Brown a tight rope performer?
Pop Weaverling without a pocketful of toothpicks.
Floyd Morten a bold, bad boy?
Harriet Hall an old maid?
Charles Haas a preacher?
Melvin Harter as a married mn?
Joy Wilson being real cross?
Judy Cummings a tall serious dame?
Bobby Thompson playing a funeral march?
Johnny Fitz behaving himself?

THE LOST FLIERS

They are not lost—
Those fearless fliers of the blue,
They who have seen with unveiled eyes
The conquest of the trackless skies,
They who have heard the whispering voice
That bade them make this quest their choice.

They are not lost—
They who have soared above the tide
Through blinding mist and cloud-swept way
With faces toward the break of day.
The stars mark where they fell and vigil keep
Above the waves where now they sleep.

They are not lost—
They cannot be who serve a dream,
Others will take the starry trail,
Making a highway and not fail.
Then clouds of wings that cleave the sky,
Will honor the vanguard that dared to die.

J. C. Press Club Elects Officers

Ray Lindman, managing editor of the Don, will lead the college Press club next semester, together with Lawrence Minge. Lindman was elected president and Minge vice president at the last meeting of the club.

Other officers are Harold Watson, secretary and treasurer, and Eleanor Turner, social chairman.

After the business meeting several musical numbers and stunts were rendered by various members of the club.

Musical Notes

"Wailing" and "slipping," which are now considered to be singers, crimes, were once legitimate in Italian music. It is thought by some musicians that they will again come into proper use.

It is said that music began in China three thousand years before Christ. The names of the tones in the Chinese scale, which had only five, were Emperor, Prime Minister, Subject, People, State Affairs, and Picture of the Universe.

The tarantella originated in Soth-ern Italy about the 15th century when a new malady broke out. The only cure found for it was dancing until the victims were exhausted. The tarantella was the music to be played. Different airs were supposed to cure different forms of the disease.

The price paid recently for a Guarnerius violin was $18,000.

A young musician in North Dakota believes that music has made his hair curly. If it would do that in every case, violin factories would soon out-class Henry Ford's establishment.

"If your dog were a singer, wonder what style of songs he would select."

"I am sure he would choose bark-rolles."

"Yes, sir."
"Where?"
"Russia."
"What part?"

"Why did you leave Russia?"
"I couldn't bring it with me."
"Where were your forefathers born?"

A class at George Washington University recently waited fifteen minutes for an instructor and then dispersed. The next day the instructor claimed to have been in the class because he had left his hat on the desk. On the following day upon entering the classroom he was greeted with rows of chairs occupied only by hats, but not one student. Our informant does not state whether or not the instructor left his hat and went his way.

SAN BERDOO, (A. N. S.)—With twelve players out, four of them from last year's team, girls' basketball is well under way at the San Bernardino junior college.

The team is under the instruction of Coach Arthur Schafer, and is training for the Girls' Playday game January 14, to be held at Pasadena.

While grading the San Bernardino junior college campus recently the remains of three persons were unearthed in front of the administration building. Several bones were intact, but the majority were badly crumbled. It is supposed that these bones are of Indian origin, since was once the site of the village of Cushamas.

Bulpitt Twins Discover Doubles

There are twins, and then there are twins. There are Ruth and Naomi then there are Ruth and Naomi. There is California—there is Indiana. Of course there is quite a distance between the two states, but not enough for Ruth and Naomi Bulpitt to be ignorant of the fact that Ruth and Naomi Hoegel of Indiana are twins bearing a general description much the same as the Bulpitt's.

It was this way! Ruth and Naomi of Santa Ana had photographs appearing in the Evansville, Indiana Courier. Ruth and Naomi of Indiana saw the pictures and were very much interested; the more because some of their friends had mistaken the pictures for theirs, the Hoegel twins. The result was that the latter twins wrote a letter to the Bulpitt twins, disclosing the fact that they, like Ruth and Naomi of Santa Ana college, are blondes, are college sophomores, are enrolled in the same classes and are often mistaken for one another. There are twins and twins, and Ruths and Naomis.

were uncovered. These were, however, identified as the remains of white men who came to the valley during the Mormon period and perished from starvation near the Indian village.

Pasadena Cops First League Tilt, 36-21

Santa Ana Leads During The First Quarter. Edgar is Closely Guarded

The Don basketball team dropped their first conference game to Pasadena last Friday night by a score of 36-21 on the Pasadena court.

Santa Ana led the scoring in the early stages of the game. Cook the Don center, dropped some pretty shots from the center of the floor. The first quarter ended with the score 8-7 in favor of Santa Ana.

Early the second quarter the Pasadena team rallied and change the advantage. Margadant, crack center of the opposing team, ran wild, shooting baskets from every angle. Edgar, of the Don team, was so closely guarded by the Pasadena defense that he was not able to score in his usual fashion. The score at the half was 17-12 in favor of Pasadena.

This defeat does not throw the Don team out of the running for the conference championship. It Santa Ana wins the remaining contests, they will enter the play-off between the sections. Pasadena is considered the strongest team in the league, so defeat at their hands does not prove that Santa Ana is out of the running.

The lineup:

Edgar (9)	F	(9) Arnold
Yuel (4)	F	(12) Rogers
Cook (7)	C	(13) Margadant
Beatty (1)	G	Berglund
Allee	G	(1) Stevenson

Substitutions: Santa Ana—Settle for Edgar; Kolkhorst for Yuel; Weaverling for Cook; White for Beatty; Stewart for Allee.

Pasadena—Connell (1) for Arnold; MacRory for Margadant; Brownlee for MacRory; Nichols for Berglund; Hartline for Nichols; Culver for Stevenson.

Another candidate for presidency is James Walker, the commenter for the Don. He has represented the college as a debater both this year and last.

The office of vice president is between Spencer Stewart and Dick Drew, Stewart is an athlete. In both football and basketball he was very efficient and prominent.

Dick Drew is at present commissioner of men's athletics, and has been treasurer of the Y. M. C. A.

Virginia Powell and Hazel Smith are the nominees for the office of secretary. Miss Smith won the Don song contest held last month, and Miss Powell is commissioner of women's athletics and president of the W. A. A.

Cougar Casaba-Men To Meet Don Team

The Don cagers meet Compton here Saturday night in what promises to be one of the hardest fought games of the season. Compton high has been a very strong basketball school for several years, putting out championship teams nearly every season and there is reason to believe that the J. C. team is composed of men who have starred on these championship teams in the past.

"Compton has one of the finest groups of athletes in any of the colleges, as was shown by their football team, and it is not wrong to suppose that their basketball team will show some quality" said Coach Scott. "The Los Angeles Times said that Compton, Pasadena and Long Beach represent the best in athletics of all the fourteen colleges in Southern California, so we are considering them at least equal to, if not better than, Pasadena. I'm expecting a very hard fought game Saturday, but our team is out to win if at all possible."

The team itself is hitting its stride now, and if the Compton cagers win it will be only by their hardest playing. This is the second league game of the season and the first one on our court. Undoubtedly this fact will result in a large crowd at the game, and everyone is assured of a fast snappy game.

Apropos of nothing at all have any of you considered the considered the faithfulness of the men on the basketball team? Some two or three nights a week these fellows practice for two or three hours and when one ponders for a moment upon this, one sees a display of college spirit that, unfortunately is not universal throughout the college. These night practices break into study hours and recreation hours and the fact that the fellows follow the rules uncomplainingly and faithfully is greatly to their credit. Too bad that this same college spirit, or whatever you want to call it, doesn't inspire a larger percentage of the student body in some of their actions.

There is an activity at present among some of the men that has been going on for some time. It has been noticed for some time but it seems to have attained even greater proportions over the holidays. We are referring to this attempt at hirsute growths upon the upper lips of many of our contemporaries. It seems to be a favorite indoor sport; some grow mustaches (so called courtesy); others shave them off and so it goes. Who cares?

Speaking of indoor sports, rumor has entered even our sacred sanctuary that the frosh are to spring and give a dance for the sophs. According to our informant, this is to be one of the bright spots on the calendar so it might be well to make preparations now. We understand the date is a week from Friday. Ten more days of waiting but it probably will be worth it.

San Bernardino Indians received the Southern California junior college conference football trophy, Monday, January 9, from Coach Wilson of Riverside junior college. Fifteen members of the team were awarded sweaters for their work during the year of 1927.

W. A. A. Federation Formed at Pasadena

Don First Team Defeats Chaffey Volley Ball Game Lost To Pasadena

The junior college play day at Pasadena, Saturday, Jan. 14, culminated in the formation of a W. A. A. Federation for closer inter-collegiate cooperation.

The motion, made by Long Beach and seconded by Pasadena, for the formation of such organization was carried unanimously. Josephine Ball represented Santa Ana in the vote.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution for the federation which is to be sent to the charter members. It will be voted upon at the next inter-collegiate play day.

Peggy Brinkley, president of the Pasadena W. A. A. presided during the business meeting. She introduced Miss Irene Freoboschaski, president of the U. C. L. A. Women's athletic association, who talked on: "The work of a W. A. A. and the value of such a federation."

During the luncheon which was served in the cafeteria at 12:00 a.m. the guests were entertained by Ruth Navis, soprano soloist; Helen Mc Masters, reader; Clinck Vorchait, saxaphonist; and Marjorie Secrest, character whistler.

The results of the morning's play show the Pasadena teams to be the victors of the day, as they won all of the contests in which they participated.

At 10 a. m. the play began with basketball.

Ass'n News

San Bernardino won her first practice basketball game Thursday, January 12, by defeating the Redlands university varsity squad, with a score of 29-18.

Freshman of the San Bernardino valley junior college have selected class sweaters of black and white with a special Indian monogram. So far as known, the class of this school holds the distinction of being the only student group with black and white as symbols of class ideals.

Considering the combinations particularly snappy, and also remembering that the colors signify the winner, the members of the first year class are enthusiastic over the new sweaters.
